

I am writing with the recommendation for Caitlin Bawn.

I have worked with Caitlin for the past 4 years and have been impressed with every attribute she possesses. It is rare that in an organisation an individual has the ability to communicate and care for every person she works with. Friendly, thoughtful and reliable Caitlin rises to every single challenge that she is faced with. An amazing team worker she is not only academically intelligent, but emotionally intelligent.

An excellent communicator she manages to enthuse everyone she speaks to with her infectious and warm personality. This is demonstrated no better than by the dedication she puts to her charity Epiphany. An eloquent speaker she calmly and confidently delivers her message with simplicity and truth. I have been fortunate to take part in events for Epiphany, which were always well attended and organised. Her online campaign for the HSBC Bursary was executed amazingly well, using social media to communicate her message all over the world. Her drive culminated in her winning the top prize for the charity. Working tirelessly and studying has also shown the strength she possesses and her hunger for learning, self development and the development of others. Hardworking and dedicated she sticks with a task until it is completed.

There are few people I have met like her. Genuine and positive she literally makes the lives of those around her more enjoyable. She would be a credit to any course or organisation lucky enough to have her.

Kind Regards

Ellie Williams
