The UK is about to experience a drag revolution like never before! Hosō Terra Toma and Niohuru X, the trailblazing stars of The Boulet Brothers' Dragula, are joining forces for a groundbreaking world tour coming to the UK this November 2024. Prepare for a night of electrifying performances that blend horror, high fashion, folklore, and a daring twist of the macabre.

The much-anticipated tour will kick off on November 8th at OPUS@PRYZM in Bristol and will make its way across the UK, stopping at major cities including Birmingham, Manchester, Liverpool, Newcastle, and London. Each performance will be a riotous celebration of art, culture, and individuality, featuring jaw-dropping looks, avant-garde performances, and provocative art that only these two supermonsters can deliver.

Meet the Monsters: Hosō Terra Toma and Niohuru X

Hosō Terra Toma, a trans femme drag pioneer from Seoul, South Korea, is best known for her unique blend of drag and Asian mythology. Dubbed the “Drag Kaiju,” Hosō is celebrated for her use of traditional Korean elements like masks (탈), shaman costumes, and culturally-charged themes that challenge the conventions of drag. She is a double finalist on Dragula, known for her visceral performances that draw from her own experiences as a cancer survivor. Hosō’s art is an exploration of the grotesque and beautiful, a reclamation of trauma, and a challenge to the limits of drag performance.

Niohuru X, the reigning champion of The Boulet Brothers' Dragula Season 5, brings her powerful Chinese heritage and vampiric flair to the stage. Hailing from Tianjin, China, her drag is a fusion of historical opulence and punk-rock edge. Known for her unapologetically bold style and humor, Niohuru X has captivated fans worldwide with her elevated, creative looks and raw, magnetic stage presence. With multiple wins under her belt, Niohuru X is redefining what it means to be a drag superstar on a global scale.
